Citizens Plan For Skating Season

A public meeting was held in the Fire Hall on Wednesday evening to discuss the skating rink and ways and means of running same to the best advantage this season. According to the chairman, a number of complaints have been made regarding the former method of management and the meeting was called to allow citizens to discuss the matter and make suggestions for the operating of the rink this season. After a full discussion, a motion was made by D. W. Carmichael, seconded by C. Calhoun, that the Village operate the rink this season. On further discussion it was considered doubtful that the Council would have the time to give the rink and it was suggested that a committee, consisting of E. Bills, D. W. Carmichael and W. K. Gish, be appointed to assist the Council.

The meeting approved advertising for a caretaker immediately.

Well known hymns were sung enthusiastically from the screen, and an interesting illustrated story was provided for the children. Beautiful colored slides made very real to the congregation the inspiring story of Bunyan's Pilgrims Progress.

Thanks are given to Mr. and Mrs. John Jack who helped so much to make this service a success, especially looking after the fires, and having the hall so comfortable on a cold night.

Village Council Meeting

The November meeting of the Village Council was held in the Fire Hall Monday, November 4th, with Mayor Wood and Councillor Hurt present. The meeting was opened with a two minute silence in memory of the passing of Councillor Asmussen, who served the council faithfully for 12 years and had devoted much of his time to the welfare of the village. The Park and Cemetery was under his supervision and the council received numerous compliments regarding the fine appearance of the village plots.

POLAND UNDER RUSSIA

Russia is ruling occupied Poland with a heavy hand. Information of the Russian occupation, received by the Polish Consul General to Canada, tells of the deportation of 6000 peasants from Polesie to Siberia.

In southeastern Poland groups of Kirghiz and Mongols have appeared in the villages. They frighten the country people with their looks. It is said that they will colonize the villages from which the Poles have been driven away.

Sugar in southeastern Poland is in spite of fixed low prices (4 to 5 rubles for a kilo) very expensive (20 rubles for a kilo) as it can be bought only in a illegal way.

The next campaign will probably be very bad, as there are no more sugar-beet plantations in the wealthy farms and the peasants refuse to plant them.

All shops in Wilna have received the order to deposit all objects of value in silver, gold and jewelry at the national bank to be confiscated by the government. The population of Wilna is afraid that objects of gold and silver, as well as jewelry in private hands will also be confiscated.

"The Italian forces have run into a tough proposition in trying to defeat the Greek Army. With the British forces now taking up their positions in Greece, it looks like the Italian army will soon be on their way out.

The punishment the Greeks are handing out to the Italian forces has put the Axis powers into another huddle, and whatever comes out of this meeting will not be of any good.

Nazi forces no doubt had in mind of crossing Bulgaria to hook up with the Italians, but the governments of Bulgaria and Yugoslavia holding out against such a move has compelled the Axis to soft pedal until they get some idea of what Russia will do. If the Axis can be assured of Russia keeping out of the fight, they will give orders to advance through Bulgaria, which means Turkey would have to come into the scrap to defend her interests.

The Axis cannot move from their base in Rumania until such time as they are sure of Russia.

If the Italians had made a push-over in Greece it would of caused Yugoslavia and Bulgaria to weaken to the Axis demands, but now, the picture is altogether different. The Allies will have to strike fast and hard against the Italians before the Nazis can maneuver in any assistance that would prolong the fight.

Reported Shelled in Atlantic

Mackay Radio in New York City reported Tuesday, Nov. 6, that it had intercepted messages which stated two British ships were being shelled in mid-Atlantic "by enemy ship of the Graf Spee class." The 16,000-ton passenger liner Rangatiri (above), used lately as a transport to remove British children from overseas, was reported shelled halfway between Ireland and Newfoundland. The second British ship was believed to be the 4,952-ton freighter, Cornish City. No further report has been received.

A cook roles out soup at the headquarters of the First Canadian Division "Somewhere in England." The sunshine made the cook's straw hat seem a bit more suitable, although it hardly matches the rest of his army equipment. This straw hat is a regimental joke—and the cook's "mascot."

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

It seems fitting indeed that Great Britain and the Greeks should be standing side by side defending Democracy against a common enemy.

Democracy, or those principles of freedom and liberty which insist that the individual citizen is superior to the State, and shall not be merely the pawn of a monarch or of a dictator, was first invented by Solon the Greek in the year 594 B.C. and was actually put into practice as a system of a government in Athens, with a deliberative assembly, which sat continuously throughout the year to design laws and to govern the country, in 503 B.C.

This system of Democracy was eventually lost by the Greeks, but the English won it back for the common people when King John was obliged to sign the Magna Carta at Runnymede on June 15th 1215.

Today these dearly won rights and liberties are again in danger, and it seems more than a mere coincidence that the Greeks who originally discovered Democracy and put it practically to work, and the English who restored it to the world, should be fighting side by side to maintain these precious rights of the individual; and fighting moreover on the very same Grecian soil and seas where Democracy was won originally by the Greeks in 594 B.C., or 2,443 years ago.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Australia's wheat crop for 1940 is 125 million bushels less than last year—Recent Chinese purchases of North American flour have been heavy—It is estimated that 13.5 per cent or 107 million bushels of 1940 wheat crop will be fed to livestock in the U.S.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Harvesting of corn has made good progress in the Balkan countries—Cultivation of winter crops in the U.K. is proceeding satisfactorily—Seeding of wheat is now well under way in India—New wheat crop prospects in the Argentine continue favorable.

URGENT COMPLETION OF TRANS-CANADA

Completion of the Trans-Canada highway at an early date is essential and is being advocated by the Canadian Good Roads Association. This action was pressed for when the association held its recent annual convention in Quebec city.

For years the Alberta Motor Association has given strong support to the campaign to bring about the completion of a national road. Now that this country is involved in war, there is a strong belief that there is a greater need for a road across the country that also would serve military purposes.

Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works for Alberta, who attended the convention, declared upon his return that the association had favored adoption of a five year plan to finish the road.

This meant that the whole project could be advanced and completed on a coordinated basis, instead of haphazard building of different stretches or links in the chain.

The completion of the Big Bend closes up the western link but there still is a stretch in northern Ontario which will have to be built.

The A.M.A. intends to press for early completion of this national road, a project in which all Alberta motorists will be interested.

Bomb Blasts London Church

Peaceful sunlight drifts down on the altar of this London church (undamaged) after the shattering roar of a Nazi bomb that blew in a section of the wall and roof. A symbolic note, perhaps, is the undamaged crucifix.

SOUTH AFRICA SPEEDS WAR TEMPO

South Africa is determined to play an increasing part in the war. War industries have been stepped up. Volunteers have come forward in tens of thousands. South Africans serving in the King's African Rifles are included in awards for heroic fighting against Italians in East Africa.

Wool growers in the Burgersdorp district decided, in recognition of the satisfactory wool purchasing scheme undertaken by Great Britain to inaugurate a British War Fund to be known as the Wool Growers Appreciation Fund.

Mayors of the larger towns in the Union of South Africa opened funds to alleviate the distress of air raid victims in Britain. Within a week, 80,000 pounds were contributed.

The first batch of children from Great Britain was welcomed at Cape Town by the Minister of Labour with the words: "I greet you as first instalment of the many thousands we hope will come in the future."

During the voyage to South Africa, the children had physical training, games, school, church, medical parades and lessons in Afrikaans.

The South African Director of Information relates the fondness of one boy on board for playing pranks. One day he found the ship's flag locker, took out a flag and hoisted it on the ship's halliards. No one noticed this until disturbing signs were noticed in another ship which was passing. The second ship hoisted flags frantically.

Then it was discovered that the boy had hoisted the signal: Enemy ship in sight.

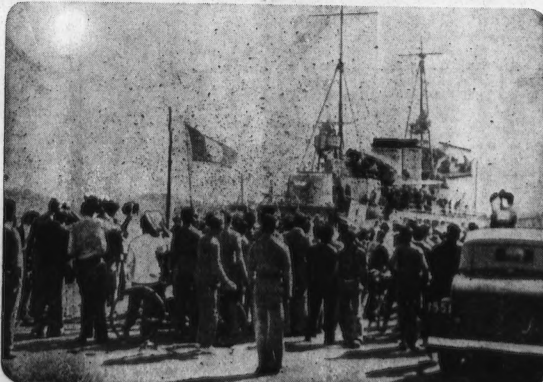

Friend: "If I may say it, you seem rather glum, Mr. Prater. Business falling off?"

Butcher: "No, business is good but that inspector of weights has just been here."

Friend: "Well?"

Butcher: "He found that I have been giving eighteen ounces to the pound."

New Caledonians Defy Vichy's Warship Guns

Preceding the defection of New Caledonia from the Vichy Government to the de Gaulle Free French movement, widespread demonstrations reflected the true sentiment of the country. While Governor Sautot, of New Hebrides, awaited off the harbor, the New Caledonians marched along the streets of Noumea and engaged in minor battles with the gendarmes and marines as the residents demanded the resignation of Governor Denis of the old French Government. During the tense period this throng, favoring de Gaulle, demonstrated around the French cruiser Duménil Durville, for its crew's efforts against the de Gaulle movement.

CALCIUM IMPORTANCE IN DAIRY RATINGS

Milk contains nearly 1 per cent calcium oxide of lime. The cow obtains this mineral mainly from the roughage she consumes. Legumes such as alfalfa contain about four times as much lime as do grasses grown on the same land. If the ration for the dairy cows includes alfalfa, there is little danger of lime being lacking. If no legume hay is available, 2 per cent of bone meal in the grain ration will supply the necessary calcium.

Cows normally store calcium in the bones and draw on this source during periods of heavy milk production or when the feed lacks the mineral. If calcium is taken from the bones for too long periods, they become weak and brittle and are easily broken. The milk yield also decreases.

Alfalfa or some other legume hay in most dairies in the dairy cow's ration; in addition to supplying lime, it is extremely nutritious and possesses laxative qualities as well.
